Hongkong, September 27th, 1878.

Some months ago His Excellency the Go-VERNOR announced that he was endeavouring to elaborate a scheme for inducing Chinese merchants to bring their families here and make Hongkong their permanent home, instead of maintaining their family houses on the mainland. This announcement was hailed with satisfaction in all quarters, although it stances which militate against the bringing about of so desirable au object. The advantages which would accrue from the presence in the colony of a settled population of the higher classes of Chinese have been commented on before and are too obvious to need repetition. What shape His Excellency's scheme took, if he ever succeeded in claborating it, has never been announced. The European community would willingly have seen many concessions made with the object of inducing the more respectable Chinese to settle amongst us. Concessions made to the criminal classes, however, could only result in removing the attainment of this object still further into futurity, while at the same time it has undermined the feeling of security which the Chinese already resident here enjoyed until our present Governor commenced so actively to interfere in the criminal administration of the Colony. TO THE EDITOR OF THE "DAILY PRESS." SIR,-I am glad to see by the papers that the residents of this colony are beginning to realize the fact that if they require protection, they must look to the combined action of the colonists and not to the Government. When Sir Richard honesty of purpose and firmness of character law prescribed and inflicted was no light thing. Now what was the natural consequence of his able administration? It was to reduce crime and render life and property in this Colony secure. As soon as things had improved, Sir Richard left the Colony and the reins of Government fell into the hands of Goneral Whitfoild, and during the time he administered the Government, orimes increased, in consequence of the mild and simple character of the administrator, and witters became as serious as they were before S.c Richard had brought affairs to the satisfactory condition to which I have alluded. When Sir Arthur Kennedy arrived, things were in such an unsatisfactory condition as to call for immediate steps to be taken by him to strike terror into the criminal class. He set about this unpleasant task with a quiet determination; the good result was soon noticeable in the visible decrease of cases on the criminal calendar and in the charge sheets of the Police Courts: The police were not hampered with annecessary restrictions, and order and protection to life were again restored. Things remained in this happy state until the arrival of our present Governor; he, without any experi-

A WORD FOR OUR DOGS TO THE EDITOR OF THE "DAILY PRESS. DEAR SIR .- In these troublons times when tone walls and iron bars afford no protection from the stealthy depredations of the nests of burglars, who live and prosper under our moreiful Government, the value of a good, honest English-bred watch dog is hardly to be reckoned current coin of the realm. A well trained retriever is a better guardian to any household than half a score of gaping lukongs. Now, Sir, I am, rather was, the fortunate possessor of one of the best watch dogs in the Colony. "Sailor" was indeed a treasure, a very handsome black halfbred retriever, quite the beau ideal of a lamb at home, and a lion at the approach of any curious Celestial whose uncertain prowlings might apthree months my immediate neighbours and my-
